The row of terracotta statues in the tower depict Sts. Peter and Paul, representing the earliest period of the Church; St. Anne, mother of our Lady; St. Maurice, patron saint of our parish; St. Patrick, patron saint of the Diocese of Norwich; St. Gregory, patron of the architect who helped in the design of the church; St. Bernard, name saint of Bishop Flanagan; St. Anthony, Italian saint chosen because of the many Italian parishioners at the time of the building of the church; St. Joan of Arc, patron of the French Army, to commemorate the passage of General Rochambeau through Bolton; and St. Pius X, who was the most recent of the saints at the time of church construction. On the ceiling of the tower is the symbol of the Holy Spirit.
