July 11, 2010
dear Padre
Any tips for long-distance godparents?

My two-year-old goddaughter's mom has taken a job in another city. I'm heartbroken. How can I be a good godparent when I'm 2,000 miles away?

Ann

Dear Ann,

There's never been a better time to be a long-distance godparent. Telephone plans with free long-distance calling, e-mail, social-networking sites, digital cameras, and webcams make keeping in touch inexpensive and easy.

Your goddaughter is very young, so regular webcam visits are your best bet for making sure she knows who you are. Keep them short; forcing her to sit still longer than she wants to will make your visits an ordeal. And don't be hurt if she'd clearly rather be doing something else. Just say hello, tell her you love her, and let her go.

Send stickers and pictures (available at Christian bookstores) through the mail and discuss them during your web visits. Give her parents a box of preaddressed, stamped envelopes so she can send you her artwork. During your web visits, hold them up and admire them.

As your goddaughter gets older, you'll communicate in more sophisticated ways — e-mail, phone conversations, text messaging, social-networking sites—plus whatever else has been invented by that time. But the important thing isn't the way you keep in touch. It's that you keep in touch regularly—not just on special occasions—and build a faith-filled relationship that will last a lifetime.
